Objectives and Achievements

Unit Description

Since its creation in July 2003, the CFCUL counts with:

1) SCIENTIFIC COORDINATOR (SC)

- Olga Pombo is the SC of the CFCUL since 2003. She has been re-elected for the period of 2006-2009.

2) SCIENTIFIC BOARD (SB)

- constituted by all PhD eligible researchers, it has now 20 members (while in 2003 it had only 9)

- the SB meets several times per year in a regular basis and decides when to gather the whole team (57 integrated members - of whom 19 Phd and 9 master students; and 31 collaborators - of whom 18 international collaborators) or whether to meet with one specific group.

- the SB meets in an annual basis with its 3 consultants (Profs. Andrade e Silva, Franco Selleri and Daniel Andler).

3) EXECUTIVE BOARD (EB)

- constituted by the eligible members responsible for the research groups and the research projects approved by the SB

- the EB executes the decisions taken in the SB in order to guarantee a both in time and accurate control of:

- 1) all the management and budgetary issues regarding each activity's implementation;
- 2) the evaluation of all the achieved (or not) goals, always trying to analyze what worked out well or what did not go as initially expected.

4) RESEARCH GROUPS (RG)

- the CFCUL officially opened with 5 research lines. Through these last almost 4 years, these research lines have grown and been restructured to become the current 6 RG (see below).

- the 6 RGs are responsible for the development of the CFCUL research projects (currently 4 funded FCT/PTDC projects approved, 11 internal projects and 7 international projects (see below).

Besides the FCT funding of the CFCUL, we had a FCT funded Research Project (POCTI/FIL/48133/2002) which guaranteed a "BIC" researcher for 3 years (2004-07). In addition to the BICs's specific research work, the 3 successive grant holders (Dr. J. Cordovil, Dr. E. Fonseca and Dr. Marco Pina) had a pivotal role in the daily management and implementation of all the activities concerning not only the above mentioned Project but also the Research Unit - whenever those activities matched their research interests.

Since 2003, CFCUL has been located at Prof. Olga Pombo office (room 1.3.35) at the Faculty of Sciences University of Lisbon (FCUL). More recently a second room (4.3.28) has been attributed to the CFCUL.

General Objectives

The CFCUL was created in July 2003 as a result of the will and expertise of a group of reseachers from several Faculties of the University of Lisbon and other Universities whom, among their own research fields, had an important one in common: Philosophy of Science.

This was, at the time, in Portugal, a research area lacking a comprehensive and organized approach. Since then, the CFCUL is the only Research Unit exclusively dedicated to the Philosophy of Science in Portugal.

Our MAIN OBJECTIVES were and still are:

- to promote the development of the Philosophy of Sciences in Portugal
- to stimulate and support both specialized and interdisciplinary research
- to assure supervision of graduate and post-graduate students on Philosophy of Sciences
- to integrate research and post-graduate studies through Master and Doctoral programs (mainly "History and Philosophy of Science", FCUL and "Master on Bioethics", Lisbon Fac. of Medicine)
- to develop national and international research projects
- to establish national and international partnerships
- to organize colloquia, workshops and conferences
- to promote a "Philosophy of Sciences Permanent Seminar" for seniors researchres and a "Gymnasium" for post-graduate students
- to edit a Scientific Journal ("Conceito")
- to edit a series of books on Philosophy of Sciences ("Philosophy of Science Notebooks")
- to reach the wider national and international scientific community nd the specific publics we thought might be interested or benefit from our research in Lisbon as well as in the rest of the country and

The CFCUL opened in 2003 with 5 Research Lines:

1. The "Two Cultures" and the Question of Unity of Science;
2. Epistemological Groundings of Nature Sciences;
3. Philosophy of Mathematics;
4. Social, Political and Ethical Impacts of the Life Sciences;
5. Articulations and Paradigmatic Contaminations between Human, Natural and Exact Sciences.

These lines have been restructured in parallel with the development of the research and the new members and students's interests.

Now, in 2007, the CFCUL has 6 RESEARCH GROUPS:

- 1) Unity of Science;
- 2) Phil. of Nature Sciences;
- 3) Phil. of Life Sciences;
- 4) Phil. of Human Sciences;
- 5) Scientific Discovery, Invention and Creation;
- 6) Science and Art.

CFCUL had, in 2003, one FCT funded project: "Scientific Culture. Conceptual migrations and Social Contaminations"

Afterwards, 11 internal projects were constituted.

Currently, the CFCUL has 3 FCT funded projects (see below) and participates in 7 international projects.

Main Achievements

Over the past 3 years the CFCUL has grown significantly. With almost twice of its initial members and an ever growing national and international network, it was possible not only to achieve but to exceed most of the initially proposed objectives.

24 books, we highlight:

- J. Croca (2003), Towards a Nonlinear Quantum Physics, New Jersey / London: World Scientific, 215pp.
- O. Pombo (2006), Unidade da Ciência. Programas, Figuras e Metáforas, Lisboa: Duarte Reis, 324 pp.
- N. Nabais (2006), Nietzsche & the Metaphysics of the Tragic, London: Continuum Books
- O. Pombo, S. Rahman, J. Symon, M. Torres (eds.), Unity of Science. Essays in honour of Otto Neurath, Springer/Kluwer (in press).

45 chapters, we highlight

- R. Moreira (2004), A Revolução Científica do Século XVII, in E. Chitas e A.V. Serrão (org.), Razão e Espírito Científico, Lisboa: Duarte Reis, pp.63-74.
- J. M. Torres (2005), Genetic and Society: a Different View, in A. Fagot Largot, S. Rahman e J. M. Torres (edr.) The Influence of Genetics on the Contemporary Thinking, Springer/Kluwer

36 articles peer review Journals (+ 23 in other journals), we highlight

- Croca, J. R. (2004), De Broglie Tired Light Model and the Reality of the Quantum Waves in Foundations of Physics, Vol. 34, 12, pp. 19-29.
- Davide Scarso (2004), Linguaggio e Intersoggettività nel periodo Intermedio del Pensiero di Maurice Merleau-Ponty, Phainomenon nº 9, pp. 191-207.
- J. M. Torres, (2005), Genetic tools, Kuhnian theoretical shift and geneticization process in Medicine, Health Care and Philosophy, pp. 1-10

8 international Colloquia (+4 national Colloquia, 9 workshops, 54 conferences), we highlight

- 1st Lisbon Colloquium for the Philosophy of Science - Unity of Science. Non-Traditional Approaches, Lisbon (25-28.10.2006)
- International Meeting - Abduction and the Process of Scientific Discovery, Lisbon, 4-6.05.2006
- 1º Colóquio Internacional de Filosofia das Ciências Humanas - "Lei, Segurança e Disciplina", Lisbon, 23-25.11.2005

4 FCT projects approved

- Cultura Científica. Migrações Conceptuais e Contaminações Sociais (POCTI/FIL/48133/2002) - excellent (27.550 EUR)
- A Imagem na Ciência e na Arte (PTDC/EAT/64201/2006) - very good (180.705EUR)
- Poincaré Filósofo da Ciência (PTDC/FIL/64748/2006) - excellent (30.000 EUR)
- Problemas Filosóficos da Física Quântica (PTDC/FIL/64748/2006) - excellent (47.000 Eur)

We developed an intense teaching activity at graduate and post-graduate level

- 8 Master, we highlight
- History and Philosophy of Science - FCUL
- Bioethics - Fac. Medicine UL
- Origin of Life - Univ. Minho

We gave scientific support to

- 12 Master + 4 PHD thesis completed (one in 2007)
- 9 Master + 19 PHD thesis in progress

Internationalization

- 2 Gulbenkian Professorships: M. Torres and M. Dascal (2003-04)
- 1 Visiting Professor Abroad (N. Nabais) at Warwick University, UK (2003-04)
- 5 post-doc: M. Torres (2004-06), V. Fabrini (2006), E. Pellejero (since 2006), D. Sardinha (since 2006), C. Pombo (since 2007)
- 7 international projects, we highlight
- La Science dans ses Contextes- Pragmatisme Dialogique (head - S. Rahman)
- Lógica Universal e Unidade da Ciência (Univ. Sevilha) - Acções integradas 2008-2010
- Abdução e Descoberta Científica (Univ. Complutense. Madrid) Acções integradas 2008-2010
- SIPS, Système d'Information en Philosophie des Sciences (head - T. Martin)
- various international partnerships, we highlight
- Univ. Michoacana de San Nicolás de Hidalgo, México
- Univ. Texas / El Paso, EUA
- Collège International de Philosophie, Paris, França
- Univ. Bari, Itália

Activities

Integrative/multidisciplinary activities in the 2003-2006 period

Given the nature of the CFCUL research field, a great number of our activities are necessarily integrative and multidisciplinary. Firstly, because Philosophy of Science is in itself an interdisciplinary area; secondly, because our team has members coming from a significant variety of institutions and disciplines (Philosophy, Physics, Medicine, Biology, Mathematics, Sociology, Logics). So,

1) some of our projects (if not all) are strongly interdisciplinary. See the following examples:

- the FCT Research Project "Scientific Culture. Conceptual Migrations and Social Contaminations" had, as one major explicit objective: "to intertwine disciplines, to cross boundaries and to allow for knowledge exchange from different research areas".
- the FCT Research Project "Poincaré. Philosopher of Science " includes researchers from Physics, Mathematics, Philosophy, Logics, History of Science and Mathematical Learning.
- the internal project on "Bachelard. Science and Poetics" includes researchers from Epistemology, Physics, Psychoanalysis, Philosophy, Chemistry, Literature.

2) the same can be said about the organization of colloquia. For instance:

- the "International Meeting Abduction and the Process of Scientific Discovery" brought together people from Logics, Mathematics, Semiotics, Medicine, History of Science, Artificial Intelligence and Computation.
- The "First Lisbon Colloquium for the Philosophy of Science - Unity of Science. Non-Traditional Approaches" was organized by the CFCUL in collaboration with the Depart. of Philosophy University of Texas, USA and the Research Centre UMR 8163 Savoirs, Textes, Langage, "La Science et ses Contextes", France, and with the support of the Lisbon Institut Franco Portugais, Calouste Gulbenkian Foundation, FCT/FACC, Springer/Kluwer Publishers and journal "Synthese". It was a four day meeting with more than fifty speakers from around the world and from many different areas (Philosophy, Statistics, Biology, Physics, Mathematics, Computer Science, Literature, Cognitive Science, Logics, Artificial Intelligence, Pragmatics, Sociology).

3) besides the internal interdisciplinary nature of the CFCUL, we pursued the objective of inviting speakers from different research areas to the conference cycles we organize - "Permanent Seminar on Philosophy of Sciences", "Gymnasium" and "Dispersions". Specially the latter is explicitly intended "to liberate the critical movement of Philosophy from the precise scientific subjects". And in fact, we received in it scholars coming from areas like Hermeneutics, Performative Arts, Politics, Psychology, Gender Studies, Classical Philology.

4) we should also mention that our teaching is mainly done in the Faculty of Sciences and in the Faculty of Medicine, and that our post-graduate students are coming from a huge variety of research areas.

Outreach activities in the 2003-2006 period

One of our most important outreach activities was the creation and maintenance of a public WEB-PAGE . This is an heavy structure, hard to keep actualized, but which demonstrates and disseminates our activities to thousands of people who visit it everyday.

BOOKS

Of the 24 books published, we highlight 2 as being able to reach a wider number of people:

- Gonçalves-Maia, R., (2005) O Legado de Prometeu – Uma Viagem na História das Ciências, Escolar Editora, Lisboa
- Croca, J.R. e Moreira, R. (2007), Diálogos sobre Física Quântica. Dos Paradoxos à Não-Linearidade, Lisboa: Esfera do Caos, 352 pp

BOOK DEBATES

We organized 13 Book presentations and 10 Book debates not only at the FCUL premises but also on several bookshops both in Lisbon and Oporto (Bookshops "Ler Devagar", "Buchholz", "Eterno Retorno" and " Sem Mais nem Menos").

INTERNATIONAL and NATIONAL COLLOQUIA

- Among the 12 organized colloquia (8 international and 4 national), we highlight the national colloquium "Darwinism versus Creationism - Where does a Scientific Theory Begin?" - organized by the CFCUL, Centro de Biologia Ambiental (CBA), Soc. Portug. de Ciências Naturais (SPCN), Biblioteca Central da FCUL and Livraria Escolar Editora, FCUL, Lisbon, 21.03.2007. It was certainly one of our most participated events, with an estimated public of around 500 people in a single day.

WORKSHOPS

Of the 9 Workshops we organized, we highlight 2:

- "Science and Philosophy: between Rómulo de Carvalho and António Gedeão", 24.11.2006 - FCUL. This was an event included in the Program "National Scientific Culture Day, Rómulo de Carvalho's Centennial, Science and Technology week", promoted by the Agência Nacional para a Cultura Científica e Tecnológica - Ciência Viva.

- "Giordano Bruno died in the fire in February 1600", 14.02.2007, FCUL - this was the 1st session of a conference series entitled "Great Physicists" which we intend to develop in the future.

ORGANIZED CONFERENCES

The CFCUL organized also a total of 54 other conferences, either with international or national speakers. These conferences were organized in 3 different cycles: the "Permanent Seminar on Philosophy of Sciences", the "Gymnasium" and "Dispersions". If in the first case, the conferences were aimed mainly at a specialized yet interdisciplinary public, in the two other cases, we succeeded to reach, not only researchers from different areas, but also a wide number of people. In the case of the "Gymnasium", we definitely succeeded in giving the word to post-graduate students or researchers who were giving their first steps in philosophy of science.

ORGANIZED COURSES

We highlight the 5 following graduate courses given at FCUL

- Temas e Problemas de Epistemologia e Filosofia da Ciência, O. Pombo - 2003-04, 2005-06 (22h)

- O Legado de Prometeu – Uma Viagem pela História das Ciências, R. Gonçalves, 2004-05, 2005-06 (30 h)

- História das Ciências, R. Gonçalves, 2004-05-06-07 (30 h)

- Ciência na História, R. Gonçalves, 2004-05-06-07 (30 h)

Quantum Mechanics Groundings (15h), 2006 - opened to the general public.

CONFERENCES GIVEN BY THE TEAM

- 52 conferences by invitation in secondary schools, other universities, other research centers, etc.

- 18 communications submitted to several colloquia in Portugal and abroad

Future vision of the Unit's activities for the period 2007-2010

RESEARCH

1 Unity of Science

- major publication is foreseen to 2008 "Unity of Science. Essays in honour of Otto Neurath, by Springer/Kluwer

- proceedings 1st Lisbon Coll. for the Philosophy of Science will be published by the CFCUL 2008

- 2nd "Lisbon Colloquium for the Philosophy of Science - Leibniz in the XXI century" 2008

- foreseen sabbatical of Prof. Nepomuceno (Univ. Sevilla, Spain) (2008)
- "Universal Logic and the Unity of Science" - joint research project CFCUL / Univ. Seville
- CFCUL internal project "Plato's Protagoras"
- 2 Philosophy of Nature Sciences. We count with
 - FCT project: Problemas Filosóficos da Física Quântica (PTDC/FIL/64748/2006)
 - 4 consultants. M. Dascal (Tel-Aviv), G. Magalhães (S. Paulo). Maxwell (Londres), Ferrero (Ovierdo)
 - 2 partnership: Univ. Bari (Italy) and Madrid (Spain)
- 3 Philosophy of Life Sciences. We count with
 - foreseen sabbatical 2008-09 of Prof. R. Tore Slaattelid, Univ. Bergen, Norway
 - 2 relevant national partnerships on Bioethics and Evolutionism
- 4 Philosophy of Human Sciences. We count with
 - Post-doc E. Pellejero
 - 3 PHD for soon: N. Melim (delivered July 2007), V. Saragoça (2007), D. Scarso (2008)
 - foreseen sabbatical at CFCUL Pro. Salguero, Univ. Seville (2008)
 - partnerships with Univs. Lille III, Michoacana (Mexico), Nacional del Sur (Argentina), Collège Intern. de Philosophie, Paris
- 5 Scientific Discovery, Invention and Creation. We count with
 - FCT project "Poincaré Filósofo da Ciência" (PTDC/FIL/64748/2006)
 - partnership Univ. Nancy / Poincaré Archives, Univ. Lille III
 - Abduction and Scientific Discovery - joint research project CFCUL / Univ. Complutense, Madrid
 - joint research project "Pragmatisme Dialogique" (head: S. Rahman, Univ. Lille).
- 6 Science, Ethics and Politics
 - International Coll. "Living in Europe. Philosophy, Science and Politics" (CFCUL / Coll. Intern.Phil. / Institut Franco-Portugais, Lisbon, Oct. 2007)
 - 2 internal CFCUL projects: "The Citezenship Observatory" and "Social Contract and the Knowledge Society".
 - Science and Gender online forum
- 7 Science and Art- new strong line of research which will be put forward mostly on the basis of a FCT project "Image in Science and Art"- (PTDC/EAT/64201/2006), a project with a strong budget (180.705EUR) in witch we will pursue a series of precise ambitious objectives

SUPERVISION - we will continue to assure post-graduate supervision

- 2 Pos-doc - E. Pellejero (since 2006) and C. Pombo (since 2007). We will probably receive a PHD Hassan Tahiri (Univ. Lille III) who has applied for a FCT grant at the CFCUL. We count on him to the development of the research on Poincaré.
- 19 PHD thesis in progress
- 9 Master thesis in progress

TEACHING - we will continue to assure

- Graduate Courses Fac. of Sciences, UL
- Master in History and Philosophy of Science, Faculty of Sciences, UL
- Master in Bioethics, Faculty of Medicine, UL

DISSEMINATION - we will try to reach scientific community and specific publics we thought might be interested or benefit from our research by

- organizing national and international colloquia, workshops and conferences
- promoting a "Philosophy of Sciences Permanent Seminar" for seniors and a "Gymnasium" for post-graduate students
- editing the Scientific Journal "Conceito"

the series "Philosophy of Science Notebooks"

2 new series: "Thesis" (where to publish PHD and master Thesis)

"Documenta" (Proceedings)

INTERNACIONALIZATION

- Foreseen to 2009-2010 - graduate training network involving CFCUL / UMR 8163/Lille III will include a MAITRISE CONJOINTE /Master course

Future Networking activities in the 2007-2010

The CFCUL intends to develop networking activity with other research units in Portugal:

- Faculty of Medicine
- a new chair, "Relational Ethics" will be introduced at graduate level
- theaching support from the CFCUL in the master on Bioethica
- RP Philosophy and Life Sciences
- Museum of the Faculty of Medicine (FCT project : Image in Science and Art)
- Art School of the University of Lisbon (FCT project : Image in Science and Art)
- Instituto de Ciências Sociais (ICS)
- RG Science, Ethics and Politics
- FCT Project "Filosofia, Medicina e Sociedade" (head: Adelino Cardoso) in the contex of CFCUL internal RG
- RG Philosophy of Life Sciences

WE also count with the support of:

- Institut Franco- Portugais
- FCT project Poincaré. Filósofio da Ciência
- RG Philosophy of Human Sciences
- National Theater D. Maria II
- RG Science and Art
- Universitary Theater Escola Politécnica
- RG Science and Art
- Sociedade nacional de Belas Artes
- (FCT project : Image in Science and Art)
- Câmara Municipal do Montijo
- RG Sience, Ethics and Politics
- Publishers: Publidisa (Spain) and Esfera do Caos (Lisbon)

Objectives and Achievements
General Objectives

This RG is the developemnt of a previous research line (coming from the creation of the CFCUL in 2003) named "'The Two Cultures' and the question of Unity of Science" which was part of the FCT project "Scientific Culture. Conceptual Migrations and Social contaminations" (POCTI/FIL/48133/2002).

OBJECTIVES

- to discover the categories involved in the Idea of Unity of Science and to point out its more important theorizations.
- to identify some of the exemplary programs on the relation between Philosophy and Unity of Science (Bacon, Leibniz, Diderot, Neurath) and to systematically discuss the diversity of ways of conceiving the realization of the Idea of Unity of Science which were proposed in each case.
- to draw up a balance of the materializations which Unity of Science has given rise to, of the institutional structures in which it has been displayed, of the mechanisms which have been put forward aiming at its promotion (1.Scientific Community, 2.School, 3. Museum, 4. Encyclopaedia, and 5. Library)
- to study these 5 configurations, to analyse their multiple articulations, to understand their connection with the communication and the construction of scientific knowledge
- to give a special attention to the simultaneous constitution of scientific community and invention of school in Ancient Greece by the study of one of the paradigmatic Plato's dialogues - "Protagoras"
- to question the interdisciplinary nature of Science in the XX Century, to understand its more eloquent manifestations, to study relevant cases of the actual scientific interdisciplinary activity, both in terms of practices, heuristic procedures and institutional structures.

Besides, we intended

- to fullfill the large, ambitious aims of the FCT Project (POCTI/FIL/48133/2002) "Scientific Culture. Conceptual Migrations and Social Contaminations"
- to provide teaching on General Epistemology and Philosophy of Science in the Master on "History and Philosophy of Sciences" of the Lisbon University

- to give scientific supervision and support to post-graduate students in the area of Philosophy of Science and General Epistemology
- to establish international scientific collaboration (international projects and international publications)
- to disseminate the outcomes of our research by organizing colloquia, by giving talks and conferences and by organizing presentations and debates around books published by the RG members

Main Achievements

This RG achieved the following outcomes:

PUBLICATIONS: 7 Books (two of which, a translation), 11 Chapters, 6 articles (see "Productivity").

- Another most relevant international publication is beeing organized since 2006: Olga Pombo, Shahid Rahman, John Symon and Manuel Torres (eds.), Unity of Science. Essays in honour of Otto Neurath, to be published by Springer/Kluwer in 2008 (see "Future Research").

- The proceedings of the First Lisbon Colloquium for the Philosophy of Science - Unity of Science. Non-Traditional Approaches, (2006) will be published by the CFCUL in 2008 (see "Future Research")

ORGANIZATION OF CONFERENCES:

4 international colloquia, 1 national colloquium, 1 workshop, 6 conferences (see "Productivity")

- One of this colloquia - First Lisbon Colloquium for the Philosophy of Science, 2006 - was dedicated to the analysis of the actual perspectives on Unity of Science and was able to put together most significant scholars on the issue

PHD AND MASTER THESIS: 2 master and 1 PHD thesis in progress (see "Productivity")

TEACHING: 11 graduate and post-graduate courses, in Portugal and abroad

1) Master Hist. and Phil. of Science at the FCUL

- Filosofia do Conhecimento Científico, by O. Pombo - 2003-04 and 2005-06 (1st semester).

- Epistemologia e Filosofia das Ciências, by O. Pombo- 2005-2006 (2nd semester).

2) Master Courses out of the FCUL and abroad

- Filosofia Moderna e Contemporânea, by Nuno Nabais - Univ. Estadual do Oeste do Paraná, Toledo, Brasil, 31.10 - 4.11. 2005 (20 h).

- Interdisciplinaridade e Complexidade - by O. Pombo, Master in Complexity Sciences, ISCTE, Lisbon, 7.11. 2006 (4h)

3) graduate courses at FCUL

- Temas e Problemas de Epistemologia e Filosofia da Ciência, by O. Pombo - 2003-04 and 2005-06 (optional, 2nd semester).

- O Legado de Prometeu – Uma Viagem pela História das Ciências”, by R. Gonçalves, 2004-05 and 2005-06 (30 h each)

- História das Ciências, by R. Gonçalves, 2004-05-06-07 (30 h each)

- Ciência na História, by R. Gonçalves, 2004-05-06-07 (30 h each)

TALKS AND CONFERENCES

- 4 talks (by invitation) at international conferences

- 8 talks (by invitation) at national conferences

- 3 accepted papers/communication to colloquia

- other talks: 13

ORGANIZATION of 2 BOOK DEBATES and 5 BOOK PRESENTATIONS

PARTICIPATION IN 1 POST-GRADUATE JURY

INTERNATIONAL COLLOQUIA

- Two Philosophers of Science (8-9-06.2005), realized at the FCUL. Organization: CFCUL
- First Lisbon Colloquium for the Philosophy of Science - Unity of Science. Non-Traditional Approaches (25-28.10.2006). Organization: CFCUL in collaboration with the Department of Philosophy University of Texas, El Paso and the Research Centre

UMR 8163 Savoirs, Textes, Langage, "La Science et ses Contextes" (Maison des Sciences de l'Homme, Nord-Pas de Calais, France), and with the support of the Institut Franco Portugais, Calouste Gulbenkian Foundation, FCT/FACC, Springer - Epistemology Publishers and the journal "Synthese" (an International Journal for Epistemology, Methodology and Philosophy of Science). The Colloquium was realized at the Trindade Theatre, Lisbon

- Encontros Ibericos sobre Logica y Filosofia de las Ciencias I (19.03.2007) realized at the University of Seville, Spain. Organization: CFCUL with the collaboration of the University of Sevilha

- Encontros Ibericos sobre Logica y Filosofia de las Ciencias II (8.05.2007), realized at the FCUL, Portugal. Organization: CFCUL with the collaboration of the University of Sevilha

2) NATIONAL COLLOQUIA

- O Curso Conimbricense e a sua Tradição. Jornadas de Estudo (7.04.2006).

Organization: CFCUL with the collaboration of Centro de História das Ciências da Universidade de Lisboa, realized at the Lisbon Science Museum, Anfiteatro Manuel Valadares.

3) WORKSHOPS

- Como Pensar as Relações entre a História e a Filosofia das Ciências? (21.06.2006) realized at the FCUL, Lisbon, room 1.3.29. Organization: CFCUL.

4) PERMANENT SEMINAR OF PHILOSOPHY OF SCIENCES (Organization: CFCUL)

INTERNATIONAL PROJECTS

- "La Contextualization des Catégories de la Pensée Scientifique" - head: Shahid Rahman (Univ. Lille III, France)

- "Le Rôle de la Micro-Histoire" - head: Shahid Rahman (Univ. Lille III, France)

- "Universal Logic and the Unity of Science" , joint research project submitted by the CFCUL and the Grupo de Lógica, Lenguaje e Información, University of Sevilha, to the "Acciones Integradas", sponsored by the Portuguese "CRUP" - Rectorat Council of the Portuguese Universities.

- "Système d'Information en Philosophie des Sciences (SIPS)" - head - Thierry Martin (IHPST / CNRS, France). This project aims at building a comprehensive paneuropean database on all the issues, themes and publications concerning the immense field of research of the Philosophy of Sciences.

PARTNERSHIPS WITH INTERNATIONAL INSTITUTIONS:

1) University of Lille III, France:

- joint organization of the "First Lisbon Colloquium for the Philosophy of Sciences - Unity of Sciences, Non Traditional Approaches" (see "Organization of Conferences").
- co-edition of the Springer-Kluwer book "Unity of Science - Essays in Honour of Otto Neurath" (in press).

2) University of Texas/El Paso (Departamento de Filosofia), El Paso, USA:

- joint organization of the "First Lisbon Colloquium for the Philosophy of Sciences - Unity of Sciences, Non Traditional Approaches" (see "Organization of Conferences").

Future Research

Objectives

The RG will work on the following 3 lines:

1) UNITY OF SCIENCE (this line of reserach will be mostly pursued at international level)

- Prof. Olga Pombo will continue his research on Unity of Science by giving special attention to Leibniz and Neurath's conception of encyclopaedia as the "model" for Unity of Science. In this concern, she intends:

- to publish an international paper - "Leibnizian Roots of Neurath's Encyclopaedism and the Contemporary Significance of Neurath's Conception of Unity of Science"

- to deepen the research on the 5 configurations of Unity of Science by publishing a book - "os Círculos do Saber" (The Knowledge Circles")

- to edit (with Dr. Patricia Medeiros) an anthological volume with several important translated texts - "Entre Saberes"

- A most relevant international publication is being organized since 2006: Olga Pombo, Shahid Rahman, John Symon and Manuel Torres (eds.), Unity of Science. Essays in honour of Otto Neurath, to be published by Springer/Kluwer in 2008, a co-edition of the CFCUL with University of Texas/El Paso and the University of Lille III, France (in press).
- The proceedings of the First Lisbon Colloquium for the Philosophy of Science - Unity of Science. Non-Traditional Approaches (2006) will be published by the CFCUL in 2008
- The 2nd "Lisbon Colloquium for the Philosophy of Science. Leibniz in the XXI century" will be organized by the CFCUL at 2008 intending to stimulate and debate new approaches to Leibniz Studies.
- Prof. Angel Nepomuceno (Universidad de Sevilla, Spain) in his foreseen sabbatic at the CFCUL (2008), will do research and training on "Universal Logic and the Unity of Science" (the subject of the joint research project submitted by the CFCUL and the Grupo de Lógica, Lenguaje e Información, University of Sevilla, to the "Acciones Integradas", sponsored by the Portuguese "CRUP" - Rectorat Council of the Portuguese Universities).

2) PLATO'S PROTAGORAS

- a team of 6 members of this RG (Profs. Pombo, Constancio, Câmara Leme and Drs. M. Rodrigues, J. Maia and L. Bastos) will study the referred dialogue looking for the cognitive, communicative and political mechanisms which are at the basis of the invention of scientific community and school. The outcomes will be:
 - "Essays on Protagoras" (a book of original studies with a complete and new translation from the greek)
 - "Hypertextual Protagoras" (CDROM)

3) GENERAL EPISTEMOLOGY

- Prof. Olga Pombo will give scientific support to the "Master on History and Philosophy of Science", FCUL, by lecturing two courses:
 - "Philosophy of Scientific Knowledge " (1st semester)
 - "Epistemology and Philosophy of Science in the XX century" (2nd semester)
- Prof. Raquel Gonçalves intends
 - to publish a book on "Profiles of Contemporary Science" (2008/09)
 - to give a training course on "Science in Contemporary History" (30h)
 - the RG will actively participate in 3 international projects
 1. "La Contextualization des Catégories de la Pensée Scientifique" (head: Prof. Shahid Rahman (Univ. Lille III, France)
 - the PHD thesis of Ricardo Lopes is intended to be mostly constructed within this partnership
 2. "Le Rôle de la Micro-Histoire" (head: Prof. Shahid Rahman (Univ. Lille III, France)
 - the Master thesis of Dr. Sofia Raposo is intended to be mostly constructed within this partnership
 3. "Système d'Information en Philosophie des Sciences (SIPS)" - head - Thierry Martin (IHPST / CNRS, France).

Funding, source, dates

There is no funded projects in this RG. So, the CFCUL will continue to give financial support to this RG, mainly in what concerns book acquisition, informatics material, management and organization of some of the foreseen activities. We also count with specific funding from University of Lille, Springer/Kluwer publisher, FCT/FACC, Goeuth Institut and F. Gulbenkian for the following Colloquia and Publications:

COLLOQUIA

- 2nd "Lisbon Colloquium for the Philosophy of Science" (2008) - " Leibniz in the XXI century" (estimated budget: 10.000 EUR)

PUBLICATIONS

Special Requirements

Equipment, facilities, staff - we are counting on the support of the CFCUL.

We also intend to ask for extra support (conference venues freely available) for the 2nd "Lisbon Colloquium for the Philosophy of Science" (2008) - " Leibniz in the XXI century"

For the publication of the foreseen volumes, we count with the collaboration and know-how of three editors: Spriger/Kluwer, Publidisa (Spain) and Esfera do Caos (Portugal).

Objectives and Achievements
General Objectives

This RG was directed to the study of the philosophical foundations of the quantum physics, and to the conceptual analysis of the different philosophical positions involved in the interpretations of quantum physics.

In this context, this RG had the aim of, not only to submit the philosophical foundations that support the quantum physics - according to Copenhagen's interpretation - to a new critical analysis, but are also, and mainly, develop a philosophical foundation and a formalization of the non linear quantum physics that is now emerging.

In order to achieve this aims we examined the connection of the mathematics with the reality and analyse the epistemic implications of a non linear quantum physics.

This program of investigation also aimed:

- To contribute for the development of the philosophy of science in Portugal.
- To create investigation and structural conditions that can captivated students from the masters degrees in history and the philosophy of sciences
- To foment and to stimulate the investigation in the area of the philosophy of science
- To establish an forum of debate between investigators of natural sciences and philosophy.

Main Achievements

The year of 2003 began with the publication of the book "Towards a Nonlinear Quantum Physics" by Prof. Croca. In this book, in the sequence of de Broglie proposal, a modern version of the nonlinear quantum physics was developed in its fundamentals. As an extension of this book the nonlinear master equation was solved for the most significant cases. And, also, an whole range of new solutions are now under close study.

Furthermore, it was shown that the coefficient term of the nonlinear term of the master equation must be always be equal to one. It was shown that whenever the coefficient differs from one the nonlinear equation by rescaling transforms itself in the linear Schrödinger equation.

The way opened by de Broglie for the nonlinear complex interaction process between the theta wave, also named the guiding wave, and the singularity was extended from the quantum physics to all physics. The main goal of this research is the unity of all physics in the light of the Principle of Eurhythmy [see "The principle of eurhythmy a key to the unity of physics" Kluwer, in print]. It was already shown that one of the most unifying principles of physics. The philosophical and epistemological implications are being developed.

This RG also achieved the following outcomes:

PUBLICATIONS: 3 Books, 4 Chapters, 2 articles in peer review journals, 1 article in conference proceedings (please, see "Productivity" chapter)

ORGANIZATION OF CONFERENCES: 1 international workshop, 2 national workshops, 9 other conferences (see "Productivity" chapter):

PHD AND MASTER THESIS: 1 PhD completed thesis; 1 PhD thesis in progress; 1 Master thesis in progress; 2 Phd thesis in preparation (see "Productivity" chapter)

TEACHING (courses given in graduate and post-graduate courses, in Portugal and abroad)

- Rui Moreira, "Epistemologia e Filosofia das Ciências", course of the Master in "História e Filosofia da Ciência" Faculdade de Ciências, Universidade de Lisboa, May-June 2004 (20 h)

RESEARCH

With University of Bari, Italy

Prof. Garuccio came to the CFCUL in 2003. During his stay he gave a public conference and participated in several RG work sessions.

Prof. Selleri came to Lisbon, as scientific consultant of CFCUL, in 2005. During his stay he made a public conference and participated in several RG work sessions.

In the sequence of the collaboration with the university of Bari, an experimental methodology was developed to solve the so called “Poincaré’s curse”, that is, the so-said impossibility of measuring the one-way velocity of light. This difficulty is related with the problem of two clock calibration in relativity. It was shown [“Experimental Proposal for Determination of One-Way Velocity of Light with One Single Clock”, article to be published] that it is possible to measure the one-way velocity of light with one single clock. In this way the problem of two clock calibration procedure is avoided.

With University of S. Paulo, Brasil

Prof. Gildo Magalhães came to CFCUL in 2006. During his stay he gave a public conference and participated in several RG work sessions.

In the sequence of the collaboration with the university of S. Paulo a new fundamental principle - the Principle of Eurhythmmy - was developed [see the book -“The principle of eurhythmmy a key to the unity of physics”, Springer/Kluwer, in print]

With University of Tel-Aviv, Israel

During the stay of Prof. Marcelo Dascal as Gulbenkian Professor at the FCUL, he gave two public conferences and participated in several RG work sessions. In result of this collaboration a new epistemic approach to quantum physics has been developed

VISITING UNDERGRADUATE STUDENT:

Andrea Andrisani, of University of Bari, worked in the CFCUL from January to August 2005.

Future Research

Objectives

RESEARCH

CONTINUATION OF THE DEVELOPMENT OF THE MATHEMATICAL APPARATUS OF CAUSAL NONLINEAR QUANTUM PHYSICS

In particular, we aim to:

- To proceed the study of the properties of the already found solutions of the nonlinear master equation and the new ones, namely in the non stationary case.
- To publish, in this period, a full work on the mathematical foundations of the nonlinear quantum physics, on the form of a book or in a series of articles.

DEVELOPMENT OF THE PHILOSOPHICAL IMPLICATIONS OF THE NONLINEAR CAUSAL QUANTUM PHYSICS

We aim to study the:

- Concept of particle in the indeterminist linear quantum physics and in the modern causal nonlinear quantum physics.
- Concept of causality and indeterminism, trajectory, localization and non-localization temporality and non-temporality in the light of the nonlinear theory.
- Philosophical implications of pragmatic approach to the Niels Bohr complementarity principle.

These tasks are to be carried by research students in the course of their PhD thesis, namely:

- João Luís Cordovil "O que é uma Partícula Quântica? - Implicações Ontológicas e Epistemológicas do Conceito de Partícula Quântica nas Interpretações de Copenhaga e de De Broglie-Croca", under the supervision of Olga Pombo and José Croca.[in progress]
- João Eduardo Farias Araújo, "Mecânica Quântica. Formulações e Confabulações em torno da Causalidade" under the supervision of Rui Moreira and José Croca [in preparation]
- Nalliely Hernandez "O Princípio da Não-Complementaridade na perspectiva do Pragmatismo de Rorty", under supervision of Rui Moreira and Andrés Rivadulla (Univ. Complutense, Spain) [in preparation]

We also aim to:

- to study the philosophical implications of Fourier and wavelets analysis.
- to organize one workshop on the concept of Theory in 2010
- to organize one workshop on the concept of Quantum object in 2009
- to publish 4-8 articles.

THE UNITY OF PHYSICS

The aim of this line of research is to continue the work in the unification of physics. In order to do that we intend to:

- to develop formally the unity of physics by using the principle of eurhythmy to nonlinearity systems, chaos and stochastic processes, stochastic equations and theory of probabilities
- to develop a gravitic attraction law in the light of the principle of eurhythmy.

- to develop a Coulomb law in the light of the principle of eurhythmy.
- to derivate the Maxwell equations from the principle of eurhythmy.
- to study the philosophical consequences of the principle of eurhythmy and his implications in the unity of science.
- to interpret, with the help of the principle of eurhythmy, the tunneling and superluminal velocities.
- to realized one workshop on the principle of eurhythmy in 2008.

TRAINING

We intend to organize four courses. Namely:

- on " Wavelets analysis" - 2008 (Prof. Rica da Silva)
- on "Foundations of quantum mechanics" - 2009 (Prof. Croca)
- on "Philosophy for Physicists" - 2008-2010 (Prof. Olga Pombo and Prof. Nuno Nabais)
- on "Physics for Philosophers" - 2008-2010 (Prof. Rui Moreira and Prof. Croca)

DISSEMINATIONS

We aim to:

- to continue the conference series entitle "Great Physicists" (foreseen conferences: Kepler, Newton, De Broglie)
- to organize four public conferences per year
- to publish three books
- to publish four articles in peer review international journals
- to organize one international meeting on foundations of quantum physics per year.

Funding, source, dates

PROJECTS

47.500 EUR, funded FCT project "Problemas Filosóficos da Física Quântica" (PTDC/FIL/64748/2006). The project will begin at 1/1/2008.

This project will be the major funding basis for the RG. However, as we received not all but circa 60% of the required funding, we will have to ask for extra-financial support in order to achieve all the intended activities:

- Coming and stay of Prof. G. Magalhães from S. Paulo (GRICES PROGRAM: 2.000 EUR; CFCUL: 500 EUR - estimated)
- Coming and stay of Prof. M. Dascal from Tel-Aviv (CFCUL: 2.000 EUR - est.)
- Coming and stay of Prof. Ferrero from Oviedo (CFCUL: 1.500 EUR- est.)
- Coming and stay of Prof. Maxwell from London (CFCUL: 1.500 EUR- est.)
- Mission of Prof. Croca to a congress in Turin, 2008 (FCT/FACC or CFCUL: 750 EUR- est.)
- Publication of 3 books (FCT/FACC: 3000 EUR; CFCUL: 1500 EUR - est.)
- Annual Internacional Meeting on Quantum Physics Foundations (to be funded by the FCT project "Problemas Filosóficos da Física Quântica")

The CFCUL will continue to give financial support to the activities of this RG, mainly in what concerns book acquisition, informatics material and common management, and organization of some activities, namely:

COURSES

- Wavelet Analysis - (Est. Buget 1000 €)
- Foundations of Quantum Mechanics - (Est. budget: 250 €)
- Philosophy for Physicists - (Est. budget: 250 €)
- Physics for Philosophers - (Est. budget: 250 €)

MEETINGS

- Annual Internacional Meeting on Quantum Physics Foundations (Est. Budget: 3000 €/year)
- Conference series “Great Physicists” (Est.: 250 €/session)

WORKSHOPS

- Concept of Scientific Theory (Est. budget: 350 €)
- Concept of Quantum Object (Est. : 350 €)
- Principle of Eurhythmy (Est.: 350 €)

Special Requirements

Equipment, facilities, support staff and management – we count with the support of the CFCUL.

Also we intend to get extra support (room availability and informatic) for the following activities:

Courses on:

- Wavelet analysis
- Foundations of quantum mechanics
- Philosophy for Physicists
- Physics for Philosophers

Annual Internacional meeting on Quantum Physics Foundations

Conference series “Great Physicists”

Workshops on the:

- Concept of theory
- Concept of quantum object
- Principle of eurhythmy

For the publication of the foreseen volumes, we count with the collaboration and know-how of two editors: Publidisa (Spain) and Esfera do Caos (Portugal).

Objectives and Achievements

General Objectives

This RG results from the reorganization of 2 previous Research Lines (RL): "Analysis of the political, ethical and social impacts of Life Sciences" and "Articulation and paradigmatic contamination between the human, natural and formal sciences".

Our objectives were:

- to study the social and ethical impacts of science and the politics of science and its models. More specifically, to study the technological mediation, the anthropological and ethical challenges of scientific and technological developments, as well as the - in a different theoretical and methodological frame - the public understanding of science.
- to study the of paradigmatic contaminations between human and natural sciences, analyze the human science's models in the study of the inner processes of the scientific knowledge and their social impact, and analyze the scope and limits of formalism in human sciences.

With an ever growing number of members, these two RL would eventually give birth to 3 Research Groups: the current "Philosophy of Life Sciences" RG (mainly aiming at studying Philosophy of Biology and Philosophy of Medicine), the "Philosophy of Human Sciences" RG (please, see RG # 4), and the "Science, Ethics and Politics" RG (RG # 5).

As far as the "Life Sciences" is concerned, Prof. Antonio Barbosa and Prof. Nuno Nabais' team - in a partnership CFCUL/ Lisbon Faculty of Medicine - shaped one of this RG's main objectives: to do research on Bioethics, Philosophy of Medicine and Health and History of Madness in Portugal.

Philosophy of Life and Biology has always had an important role in the CFCUL, mainly due to the important work done by Prof. J. M. Torres, an international expert in Philosophy of Biology, both as a Gulbenkian Professor (2003-2004) and a Post-doc at the CFCUL (2004-06). Besides Prof. Torres research and training at the CFCUL, he also developed, together with Prof. R. Gonçalves, a relevant teaching work in the Master on "Origin of Life" (Minho University; see "Main Achievements" below).

Largely as a consequence of Prof. Torres work in our Unit, a growing team of CFCUL members and collaborators from FCUL Biology Department (Prof. Carrapiço) and ISPA (PHD A. Levy), have been developing research around the study of Evolutionary Theories (already materialized in a Master Thesis (Dr. H. Abreu) and in a Colloquium, "Darwinism vs Creationism - Where Does a Scientific Theory Begin?" - please see the "Productivity section").

Main Achievements

This RG achieved the following outcomes:

PUBLICATIONS: (5 Book chapters and 8 articles; please see the "Productivity" section)

ORGANIZATION OF CONFERENCES: 3 National colloquia, 1 course and 4 other conferences (see "Productivity" section)

PhD AND MASTER THESIS : 7 Master thesis completed. 2 PhD thesis under way (see "Productivity" section)

TEACHING (both graduate and post-graduate, in Portugal and abroad)

A. Philosophy of Medicine

- Master on Bioethics, Lisbon Faculty of Medicine

- coordination: Antonio Barbosa (since 2006)

- lecturing by António Barbosa (2003-2007)

Martins Vale (2003-2007)

Nuno Nabais (2003- 2007)-24h/year

Olga Pombo (2006)-4h

- Master on Palliative Care (Antonio Barbosa)

-Module “Comunicação e Aspectos Psicológicos” –2007, 5 h, Lisbon Fac.Medicine (FML)

-Module “Processo de Luto: Apoio Familiar e Profissional” 2007, 12h, FML

-Module “Educação e Formação em Cuidados Paliativos” 2007, 4h, FML

- Master on Psicogerontology (Antonio Barbosa) : 2004-present.

- Master on Sciences of the Pain (Antonio Barbosa) : 2005-present; current coordinator.

- Master on Sexology (Antonio Barbosa) : 2004-present.

- Free Course on Relational Ethics (Antonio Barbosa) – Coordinator since 2003 – Medicine Graduation

B. Philosophy of Life and Biology

- Master "Evolution and Origin of Life", Univ. Minho (Portugal)

- lecturing by Raquel Gonçalves: “História das Ideias”, “Filosofia das Ciências”, “Temas Interdisciplinares” (2003-06)

- Master "Evolution and Origin of Life", Univ. Minho (Portugal)

- lecturing by Manuel Torres: "Filosofia de Biologia" (20h) (2004-06)

- Master "History and Philosophy of Science, FCUL, Lisbon

- lecturing by Manuel Torres: "Análisis sobre biotecnología, ética y sociedad" (8h)

RESEARCH PROJECTS COORDINATION (Antonio Barbosa) :

- “Morbilidade no Doente Oncológico”, Psychiatry Service/Hospital de Santa Maria, Lisbon

- “Estudo de Qualidade em Psiquiatria de Ligação”, Serviço de Psiquiatria/Hospital de Santa Maria, Lisbon

- “Confidencialidade de Dados”, Centro de Bioética/Faculdade de Medicina de Lisboa, Lisbon

TALKS & CONFERENCES

- 5 talks (by invitation) at international conferences

- 9 talks (by invitation) at national conferences

- 4 accepted papers/talks to colloquia

- 6 other talks

PARTNERSHIPS WITH INTERNATIONAL INSTITUTIONS:

Centre for the Studies of the Sciences and the Humanities (SVT), Bergen, Norway.
This partnership has just began this year, and gave already origin to a conference by Prof. Rasmus Tore Slaattelid, with the title "Evidence-Based Medicine: A Reading of the Original Textbook". This goes along with the about to start line in Philosophy of Medicine which will study the concepts of Health, Illness, Disease, Evidence-based Medicine and Diagnosis (please see chapter "5. Future Research")

FOREIGN VISITING FELLOWS:

1. Prof. Juan Manuel Torres (Centro de Lógica y Filosofía de la Ciencia, Universidad Nacional de Sur, Bahía Blanca, Argentina) - Gulbenkian Professorship for the Master in History and Philosophy of Sciences - FCUL - (2003-2004)

2. Prof. Juan Manuel Torres (Univ. Nacional del Sur, Argentina) - Post-Doc at the CFCUL, Portugal 2004-2005, 2005-2006.

2. Prof. Rasmus Tore Slaattelid (Univ. Bergen, Norway) - Sabatic period in Lisbon foreseen for 2008-2009.

Future Research

Objectives

The RG will work on the following 3 lines:

1) EPISTEMOLOGY OF MEDICINE

- Prof. MD Antonio Barbosa will give special attention to the epistemological status and ethical dimension of the communicative relation between patient and physician. He intends to introduce a new chair, "Relational Ethics", at the Medicine graduation (FML, Univ. Lisbon), where he teaches, to organize an international congress on "Ethics, Communication and Epistemology of Medicine", to publish its proceedings and a book of its own authorship

- Prof. Nuno Nabais, MD João Sampaio and MD Barros Veloso will discuss the so called Evidence Based Medicine confronting it with the phenomenological concept of Evidence in medical diagnosis. Prof. Nuno Nabais will give special attention to the evidential experience of non-actual realities (protensions, probabilities, possibilities, risks, etc.) in medical knowledge. Dr. Sampaio and Dr. Barros Veloso will work out the concept of Evidence Based Medicine and its implications for the diagnosis process. Dr. Sampaio will organize in 2008 a National Colloquium on "Philosophy of Medical Knowledge" intending to do the state of the art in this area in Portugal and will publish the proceedings. The RG will receive support from Prof. Rasmus Tore Slaattelid (Centre for the Study of the Sciences and the Humanities, Univ. Bergen, Norway) who will be working with the CFCUL in his sabbatic in 2008.

- Dr. B. Veloso (in collaboration with Prof. A. Barbosa) intends to do research on the scientific relevance of the Lisbon School of Medicine in the 30ties and 40ties in Portugal. He will publish the second book of a series dedicated to the History of Medicine in Portugal.

2) BIOETHICS

- Prof. A. Barbosa (with the collaboration of Prof. M. Vale and Prof. Nabais) will continue the research on Bioethics which is being done at the Master on Bioethics in the Faculty of Medicine (coordinator: Prof. Barbosa) and the support to its post-graduate students

- in the line of two previous workshops organized by the CFCUL (in collaboration with the Faculty of Medicine and the Institute of Social Sciences in 2004 ("Not yet ill. Multidisciplinary contributes towards a Philosophy of Medicine") and in 2007 ("Bioethics. Fundamental Concepts: Liberty, Dignity, Responsibility Rationality and Happiness"), Profs. Barbosa and Nabais intend to organize 3 Workshops:

"Relational Ethics" (2007),

"Bioethics and Biopolitics" (2008),

"Bioethics and Epistemology" (2009)

3) EVOLUTIONISM AND EVOLUTION THEORIES

- Profs. B. Vieira, F. Carrapiço, Andre Levy and Master Helena Abreu will work on the publication of a series of 4 volumes dedicated to

1. Evolution. Arguments in favour

2. Evolution Mechanisms - from Lamarck to Margullis

3. Origin of Life

4. Origin and Evolution of Mankind

- They will organize an International Workshop in 2009: "150 Years of the Origin of Species from Charles Darwin"

- The RG will receive scientific support from Prof. M. Torres (former post-doc at the CFCUL and a renowned specialist in Philosophy of Biology) who will be invited to come to the above mentioned Colloquium "150 Years after the 'Origin of Species'".

- Prof. R. Gonçalves has a new book underway, tentatively called "Perfis da Ciência Contemporânea" and a planned training session, "Ciência na História Contemporânea" (30 h).

- Furthermore this RG will give scientific support to a PHD dissertation (by Master Helena Abreu) and a Master dissertation (by Dr. Dinora Xavier).

Funding, source, dates

There is no funded projects in this RG. So, we intend to ask for specific funding (internal, Faculty of Medicine, FCT/FACC; Gulbenkian, Pharmaceutical Industry and other private fundings) for the organization of the following Colloquia and publications

Special Requirements

Equipment, facilities, staff - we are counting on the support of the CFCUL. We also intend to ask for the collaboration of the Faculty of Medicine of the University of Lisbon, the Center of Bioethics of this Faculty, the FCUL Centro de Biologia Ambiental (CBA), the Sociedade Portuguesa de Ciências Naturais (SPCN), with whom we have already organized previous activities.

We also count with the collaboration of the FCT Project "Philosophy, Medicine and Society" coordinated by PHD Adelino Cardoso (CFUL/FLUL) and the "Medicine and History of Ideas Section" of the Scientific Society of Geography with whom we have recently established a partnership agreement.

Also, we intend to get extra support (conference venues freely available) for the following activities:

- International congress on "Ethics, Communication and Epistemology of Medicine", 2007 - Faculty of Medicine of UL
- National Colloquium on "Philosophy of Medical Knowledge", 2008 - Scientific Society of Geography of Lisbon
- International Workshop "150 Years of the Origin of Species from Charles Darwin" , 2009 - Science Museum of Lisbon University
- Workshop on " Relational Ethics", 2007 - Faculty of Medicine of UL.
- Workshop on "Bioethics and Biopolitics", 2008 - Faculty of Medicine of UL.
- Workshop on "Bioethics and Epistemology", 2009 - Faculty of Medicine of UL.

For the publication of the foreseen volumes, we count with the collaboration and know-how of two editors: Publidisa and Esfera do Caos.

Objectives and Achievements
General Objectives

This RG gains total independence in 2006. However, a strong activity around the Philosophy of Human Sciences had been taking place in the CFCUL since 2004 in the context of a research line called "Articulation and paradigmatic contamination between the human, natural and formal sciences" which was part of the FCT project "Cultura Científica. Migrações Conceptuais e Contaminações Sociais (POCTI/FIL/48133/2002). This project's main objectives were to study the paradigmatic contaminations between human and natural sciences, the analysis of the human science's models in the study of the inner processes of the scientific knowledge and their social impact, and the analysis of the scope and limits of formalism in human sciences.

Yet, in 2006, with the growing up of the CFCUL and the arriving of new researchers, the RG on Philosophy of Human Sciences became consolidated. Two important projects were worked out and presented for funding to the FCT: «Philosophy of Economy» and «Sciences in French Contemporary Philosophy». They were not funded but they are beeing worked out for resubmission later this year. Meanwhile, they are taken as internal projects (see "Future Research").

Our objectives have been:

- to create an international research network on Philosophy of Human Sciences
- to analyse the main philosophical questions around Human Sciences
- to analyse the main philosophical questions on Economics
- to elaborate a set of concepts for a better understanding of the methods and theories of Human Sciences
- to give a permanent training and philosophical support to scientists and philosophers on this area

- to edit a periodical publication where the research done could reach the scientific community in particular and the public in general
- to organize scientific meetings for the dissemination of the questions raised and its possible answers.

Main Achievements

This RG achieved the following outcomes:

CREATION OF A PERIODICAL JOURNAL: Conceito - Revista de Filosofia e Ciências do Homem (2005)

Nº 1 – 2005 "Loucura e Desrazão", Lisbon: CFCUL.

Nº 2 – 2007 "Deleuze: Literatura e cinema", Lisboa CFCUL (in press)

PUBLICATIONS: 5 Books, 11 Chapters, 9 articles in peer review journals, 15 other articles (please, see "Productivity" chapter)

ORGANIZATION OF CONFERENCES: 2 International colloquia, 1 international workshop, 11 other conferences (see "Productivity" chapter):

PHD AND MASTER THESIS: 3 PHD completed thesis (2 before 2007 and one in 2007) and 2 Master thesis completed (see "Productivity" chapter)

Future Research

Objectives

The RG will work on the following 3 lines:

1) PHILOSOPHICAL PROBLEMS OF HUMAN SCIENCES - To constitute a research group on problems of philosophy of human science (differences natural and human sciences, conditions of scientificity, methodological problems, etc). To confront this problems with concepts raised by contemporary philosophy.

- Post-doc E. Pellejero will give especial attention to the critical questions raised by the use of philosophical concepts in human sciences. He will organize a collective volume on "Sciences in Contemporary Philosophy"

- Master Scarso will work the difference natural / human sciences from the perspective of Levi-Strauss and Merleau-Ponty. He will organize (with PHD J.Y. Mercury) an international colloquium 2008 and publish the proceedings

- Prof. Nabais: 3 workshop on "Epistemology of Psychoanalysis" (2007- 08- 09)

- The whole group will write periodical reviews on human sciences in the context of the International project SIPS (France)

- PHDs Pombo and Pellejero: a series of translations of contemporary studies on philosophy of human sciences, starting with an anthology of texts of Rancière (2008)

2) PHILOSOPHY OF LITERATURE AND LINGUISTICS: To raise the main philosophical questions of literary studies and linguistics (methods of interpretation, implicit assumptions about the textual and/or the linguistic object, etc).

- Dr. Anghel : 2 vols of interviews on literary creation (2009).

- PHD Pellejero and Dr. Anghel: 3 workshops and proceedings

- Fora da filosofia (2007)

- Fora da literatura (2008)

- Poetics (2009)

- PHD Pellejero: volume «The reality of Fiction» as an outcome of his post-doc (2009)

- PHD Pombo will edit her 2006 PHD thesis on "Deleuze and literature" (2008)

- Prof. T. Reichmann and Dr. Lopes Alves: workshop on "Scientific translation" (2008)

- Prof. Wakulenko: a volume on "Potebnia Linguistics"

- Dr. Melim: workshop + 1 book "Foucault's concept of language" (2008)

- The all RG will receive scientific support from Prof. Salguero (Univ. Sevilla - Grupo de Lógica, Lenguaje e Información): a series of seminars during his sabatic in the CFCUL 2007

3) PHILOSOPHY OF ECONOMY: to bring together a group of Portuguese researchers keen on the study of philosophical issues in economics. This pioneer work aims at the development of the philosophy of economics in Portugal (a non-existent field of study in the country).

- Prof. Neves intends:

- to edit an anthology of classical works on «The quality/quantity issue in the History and Methodology of Economics» and on «Logic and Judgment in Economics»;

- to edit 2 papers:

Modes of thought and inference in Economics

Classical vs. human logic and the qualitative/quantitative dimensions in Economics

Objectives and Achievements

General Objectives

This RG results from the restructuration of two previous research lines (coming from the creation of the CFCUL in 2003) called "Analysis of the political, ethical and social impacts of Life Sciences" and "Articulation and paradigmatic contamination between the human, natural and formal sciences".

Their objectives in 2003 were the analysis of the political, ethical and social impacts of Life Science, more specifically, the technological mediation, the anthropological and ethical challenges of scientific and technological developments, as well as the - in a different theoretical and methodological frame - the public understanding and the social impact of science.

Now, after the constitution of this RG, objectives are focoused in thinking out the ethical and political groundings of scientific rationality face to the political and ethical implications of science.

1) RESEARCH:

- Ethic and political foundations of scientific rationality
- The plurality of reason's interest. Practical reason, aesthetic reason and theoretical reason
- Scientific domains and power dispositives
- The republicanism of science. Reason and Democracy
- The search for the ethical and political neutrality of scientific knowledge
- Ethical and political implications of science
- World secularization as the consequence of the enlargement of scientific rationality
- The idea of a deontology of scientific knowledge and the return to the Kantian model in ethics
- Ethics of responsibility in face of the rationality of incertitude

2) TEACHING

Prof. Nuno Nabais provided teaching on Science, Ethics and Politics

- in the Master on "History and Philosophy of Sciences" of the Lisbon University (together with Prof. T. Levy)
- in the Graduate Course at the FLUL ("Power - from Ontology to Politics ", 2004-05, 2005-06, 2006-07 (50h per year)

3) SCIENTIFIC SUPERVISION

Prof. Nabais: 2 PhD thesis (in progress)

Prof. Teresa Levy: 1PHD thesis (in preparation)

Beside, the RG also aimed

- to establish international scientific collaboration
- to disseminate the outcomes of our research by organizing colloquia, by giving talks and conferences and by organizing presentations and debates around books published by the RG members

Main Achievements

This RG achieved the following outcomes:

PUBLICATIONS:

4 Books, 13 Book Chapters, 13 articles (please see "Productivity" chapter)

ORGANIZATION OF CONFERENCES:

1 International colloquium, 1 international workshop, 10 other conferences (please see "Productivity" section)

PHD AND MASTER THESIS:

-2 Master thesis completed

-4 PhD thesis in progress (please see "Productivity" chapter)

TALKS AND CONFERENCES:

- 2 talks (by invitation) at international conferences
- 1 talk (by invitation) at national conferences
- 1 accepted papers/talks to colloquia
- other talks: 6

TEACHING: 3 graduate and post-graduate courses, in Portugal and abroad:

- Graduate Course at the FLUL ("Power - from Ontology to Politics"): Nuno Nabais (2005-2007)
- Post-graduate course at the Master on History and Philosophy of Sciences of the FCUL: Nuno Nabais and Teresa Levy (2005-2006)
- Seminário Permanente de Filosofia e Direito da Sociedade Portuguesa de Filosofia (2006-07) (Lopes Alves - Coordinator).

ORGANIZATION of 2 BOOK DEBATES and 3 BOOK PRESENTATIONS

PARTICIPATION IN 1 POST-GRADUATE JURY

Organization of conferences (2000 ca.)

INTERNATIONAL COLLOQUIA

1) The 2005 International Colloquium on the work and legacy of Michel Foucault (the first of a series called "International Colloquia on Philosophy and Human Sciences"), already mentioned in the "Productivity" of the RG "Philosophy of Human Sciences" was organized by this "Human Sciences" RG. Nevertheless, the Colloquium's many activities and talks sometimes entered the domain of the "Science, Ethics and Politics" research field. This is the reason why this Colloquium is also referred to in the present section.

INTERNATIONAL WORKSHOPS

1) Technoscience: Epistemological and Sociological Approaches, joint-organization of the CFCUL and the ICS (Social Sciences Institute), held at the ICS, Univ. of Lisbon, 21.05.2007 (first of a series to be implemented by CFCUL/ICS).

PERMANENT SEMINAR OF PHILOSOPHY OF SCIENCES

1) A Controvérsia Jurídica em Confronto com a Controvérsia Científica, by João Lopes Alves (CFCUL), 02.07.2004, 17h, FCUL, Lisbon.

2) Ciência ou Tecnociência?, by João Caraça (ISEG/CFCUL, Lisbon), 15.12.2004, 18 h, FCUL.

3) Promover o Diálogo entre a Ciência e a Sociedade: Novos Desafios, by Eduarda Gonçalves (ISCTE, Lisbon), 25.05.2006, 18 h, FCUL.

4) De Foucault a Agamben - Trajectória do Conceito de Biopolítica, by André Duarte (Univ. Fed. Paraná, Brazil), 20.11.2006, 18h, FCUL

OTHER CONFERENCES (in two CFCUL conference cycles, called " Dispersions" and "Gymnasium")

- 1) O Corpo à Superfície, by Teresa Levy (CFCUL, Lisbon), 26.04.2006, 18h, FCUL.
- 2) Ciencia y Totalitarismo, by Marina López (Univ. Michoacana de San Nicolás de Hidalgo, Mexico), 28.11.2006, 18h, FCUL

- 6) Pensar a Violência, by Ester Heuser (UFRGS, Brazil), 4.07.2007, 18h, FCUL.

Internationalization (2000 ca.)

(Collaborative publication, Research, Graduate Training Networks or other forms of participation of the Research Group at the international level)

INTERNATIONAL PROJECTS

1. SIPS, Système d'Information en Philosophie des Sciences (head - Thierry Martin) 3 UMR de Philosophie des Sciences, IHPST / CNRS, França

VISITING TEACHERS FROM CFCUL ABROAD

1. Prof. Nuno Nabais has been Visiting Teacher at the University of Warwick, UK, during 2003-2004 (teaching a PHD course on " The reception of Nietzsche in the XX Century")

PARTNERSHIPS WITH INTERNATIONAL INSTITUTIONS

- 1) Universidad Michoacana of San Nicolás de Hidalgo, Mexico. This partnership includes the co-production of two books. The first volume will be published in portuguese with mexican articles and will be edited by Prof. Eduardo Di Piero "Filosofia da Ciência como Filosofia da Cultura" . The second volume will be published in mexican with texts from portuguese researchers under the title "Filosofia da Ciência e Política" and will be edited by Eduardo Pellejero.
- 2) Collège International de Philosophie, Paris, France. This partnership includes the joint organization of the International Colloquium "Living in Europe. Philosophy, Science and Politics - Yesterday and Today" as well as the Post-doc studies of one of our team members, Diogo Sardinha.

VISITING FELLOWS (foreseen)

- Prof. Christian Möckel (Univ. Humboldt, Berlin) - one month as visting fellow at the CFCUL during 2008

POS-DOCTORAL STUDIES ABROAD

- PhD Diogo Sardinha (CFCUL Member) - Post-doc studies at the Univ. Paris X, with a FCT grant (2006-2009)

FOREIGN PhD STUDENTS AT THE CFCUL, PORTUGAL

- Dominique Mortiaux, Terror e Nihilismo nas obras de G. Bataille e M. Heidegger (supervisor: Nuno Nabais)
- Marina López (Univ. Michoacana of San Nicolás de Hidalgo, Mexico) PhD thesis "O Vôo do Espírito. Hannah Arendt e a Ciência do Renascimento" (supervisors: Olga Pombo and Agustín Serrano de Haro).
- Roseli Hickmann (UFRGS, Brazil): visiting PhD student at the CFCUL May-Aug 2007 (supervisor: Olga Pombo).
- Ester Heuser (UFRGS, Brazil): visiting PhD student at the CFCUL Mar-Jul 2007 (supervisor: Nuno Nabais).

Objectives

The RG will work on the following 3 lines:

1) SCIENCE AND POLITICS

International Seminar on Science and Politics

- a group leaded by Prof. Nuno Nabais will organize an interdisciplinary seminar with portuguese and foreign scholars aiming to bring clarification to this issue. Prof. Roberto Machado (Rio de Janeiro, Brasil) and Prof. João Caraça (ISEG) will open the seminar in November 2007

International Conferences

- International Colloquia " Living in Europe. Philosophy, Science and Politics - Yesterday and Today", org: CFCUL / Collège International de Philosophie, Paris / Institut Franco-Portugais, Lisbon, Oct 2007

- International Workshop "The University Reform", CFCUL, by Christian Moeckel

- Epistemological and Socological Approaches to Technoscience - a series of international workshops to be done in partnership with the ICS (Social Sciences Institute, Lisbon).

Graduate and Post-Graduate lecturing

- Graduate Course at the FLUL ("Power - from Ontology to Politics "): Nuno Nabais

- Science, Ethics and Politics, Post-graduate course Master on History and Philosophy of Sciences, FCUL: Nuno Nabais

- Module of the Master on History and Philosophy of Sciences, FCUL: Christian Moeckel (Humboldt Univ, Berlin)

PhD thesis (in progress)

- Rui Pereira, Desconstrução e Força Diferencial: suas Implicações Ético-Políticas (supervisor: Nuno Nabais)

- Dominique Mortiaux, Terror e Nihilismo nas obras de G. Bataille e M. Heidegger (superv.: Nuno Nabais)

- Marina Lopez, O Vão do Espírito. Hannah Arendt e a Ciência do Renascimento (superv.: Olga Pombo and Agustín Serrano de Haro)

- Raúl Buíno, Acerca da Construção para a Paz. Reconhecer a Verdade da Paz através da Diversidade Cultural e Patrimonial do Sertão (superv.: Teresa Levy)

- Marco Pina MD: in preparation

- Stella Lorenz: in preparation

2) SCIENCE AND KNOWLEDGE SOCIETY

- "The Citizenship Observatory" - (head: Alfreda Cruz) . The project aims at collecting and studying all the relevant data concerning all the questions around the concept of human capital in the knowledge society. After a first theoretical approach (including a Dictionary of Concepts) and the recollection of data, the group plans to draw up their conclusions in a publication (at the CFCUL Philosophy of Sciences Notebooks collection). In order to build up, test and implement this project, CFCUL established a partnership with the Municipality of Montijo, which will provide the facilities and informatic equipment.

- A group leaded by Dr. Lopes Alves intends to develop a project named "Social Contract and the Knowledge Society". The aim is to study the socio-economical and political kinds of power (from the most institutionalized to the more subtle ones) developing at the Western Societies mainly as a result of all the transformations occurring at the Knowledge Society we live in. These researchers intend to edit a CFCUL Philosophy of Sciences Notebook and plan to organize 2 workshops .

- The researchers of this "Knowledge Society" group also intend to submit 1 research project application to the FCT call in 2007 - "Citizenship and Knowledge Society" (head: Alfreda Cruz)

3) SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY OF GENDER

- the aim is to study the social image of an healthy female body - head T. Levy (with the collaboration of F. Cascais, A. Neves and H. Azevedo) will give special attention to the mediatic circulation of this kind of image and will study its effect on the female population. An online forum will be created and two workshops will take place (2008 and 2009).

Objectives and Achievements

General Objectives

This RG is the developemnt of a previous research line (coming from the creation of CFCUL in 2003) named "Philosophy of Mathematics" which was part of the FCT Project "Scientific Culture. Conceptual Migrations and Social Contaminations" (POCTI/FIL/48133/2002).

This line of research pursued one main goal: to study the problem of the relations between Mathematics and Natural and Human Sciences, namely the question of the description of the physical, biological and psycho-social reality.

As the time went by, we realized that we had not enough critical mass to go on with a line of research on "Philosophy of Mathematics" in its all. However, several students and international contacts in 2006 made possible to restructure it, giving birth to the current RG "Discovery, Invention and Creation". The group redefined their objectives around two concrete internal projects:

1. Abduction and Scientific Discovery: this group was created around Dr. Ana Paula Silva master thesis on Peirce under the supervision of Prof. Olga Pombo (a thesis now almost finished). Two main goals were put forward:

1) to organize an international meeting in Lisbon on Peirce, Abduction and the Process of Scientific Discovery, which indeed happened in 2006 with great success (a 2nd edition is already underway);

2) to establish significant and resourceful international partnerships on these subjects
 2. Poincaré and Intuition: this internal international group (with members from Univ. Complutense, Spain and Univ. Lille III, France) has now more than 10 members, and meets at the CFCUL premises on a regular/monthly basis. Its members achieved an important goal: the approval of the 2007 FCT Project called "Poincaré, Philosopher of Science" - PTDC/FIL/64748/2006 (Head: Franco Oliveira) - please see "Main Achievements" below. Also, they have 3 ongoing Master thesis (please see "Future Research"). This group intended to study the mathematical and philosophical work of Poincaré, mostly his theories on Dinamic Systems, Relativity, Mathematical Reasoning, Logics and Intuitiun.

Main Achievements

This RG achieved the following outcomes:

APPROVED PROJECTS:

- FCT Project "Poincaré, Philosopher of Science" - PTDC/FIL/64748/2006 (Head: Franco Oliveira) - rating "Excellent" (period: 2007 - 2010)

PUBLICATIONS: 4 books, 1 book chapter, 6 articles (please see "Productivity" chapter)

ORGANIZATION OF CONFERENCES:

- 1 International Colloquia, 2 international workshops, 3 Conferences of the Permanent Seminar and 11 other Conferences (in two different cycles called "Gymnasium" and "Dispersions") - please see the "Productivity" chapter.

PHD AND MASTER THESIS:

- there has been 1 Master thesis completed. There are 3 Master thesis and a PHD thesis under way (Please see the "Productivity" section).

TALKS AND CONFERENCES

- 2 talks (by invitation) at international conferences
- 3 accepted papers/communications to colloquia
- other talks: 7

Internationalization (2000 ca.)

(Collaborative publication, Research, Graduate Training Networks or other forms of participation of the Research Group at the international level)

PARTNERSHIPS WITH INTERNATIONAL INSTITUTIONS

1. UMR 8163 Savoirs, Textes, Langage, "La Science et ses Contextes", Univ. Lille III, France. This partnership includes:

- A joint research Project, called "Pragmatisme Dialogique" (head: Shahid Rahman, Univ. Lille).
- A joint research program on the question of Abduction (which gave birth to an International Meeting on Abduction and the Process of Scientific Discovery, held in Lisbon, in 2006, please see the chapter "Organization of Conferences")
- An impending graduate training network involving both the CFCUL and the UMR 8163/Lille III that will include:
 - a future "maitrise conjointe"/Master course (foreseen to 2009-2010).
 - Hassan Tahiri (Univ. LilleIII, France, impending process for a Post-doc grant in the CFCUL).

2. Universidad Complutense de Madrid - Departamento de Lógica Y Filosofía de la Ciencia, Madrid, Spain. This partnership includes 2 projects:

- A PhD thesis (Maria de Paz - Univ. Complutense, Madrid - please see "Future Research")
- Abduction and scientific discovery- joint research project submitted by the CFCUL and the Universidad Complutense de Madrid - Departamento de Lógica Y Filosofía de la Ciencia, to the "Acciones Integradas", sponsored by the Portuguese "CRUP" - Rectorat Council of the Portuguese Universities.

POST-GRADUATE STUDIES (foreign visiting fellows or students in Portugal and/or our research team members visits to universities abroad):

1) Veronica Fabrini (Art Institute, Unicamp, Brazil): Post-doc studies completed in the CFCUL in 2006.

2) Hassan Tahiri (Univ. Lille III, France): impending Post-doc thesis (foreseen for 2008)

Future Research

Objectives

The RG will work on the following 3 lines:

1) ABDUCTION AND SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERY

- Publication of the proceedings of the "2006 International Meeting - Abduction and the Process of Scientific Discovery" (in press)

- Organization of the "2nd International Meeting - Abduction and the Process of Scientific Discovery" - 2008

2) POINCARÉ AND INTUITION

- In the just recently approved FCT Project "Poincaré, Philosopher of Science" - PTDC/FIL/64748/2006 (rating: "Excellent") we'll study several aspects of Poincaré's work on philosophy of science, in order to understand how he dealt with the problems concerning the mathematical knowledge and the place of philosophy in the scientific development.

The project involves an intense international collaboration. Prof. Heinzmann, Director of the "Archives Henri Poincaré" and Prof. Shahid Rahman (Univ. Lille), 2 of the most distinguished scholars on Poincaré, will come to Lisbon.

- task 1, Mathematical Reasoning - to discuss the question induction versus deduction both on historical terms (the Goblot-Poincaré controversy), and on analytical terms by researching how this problem is actually considered.

- task 2, Henri Poincaré and the Mathematical learning - to understand the failure of mathematical teaching in light of Poincaré's work.

- task 3, Dynamical Systems - to analyze this Poincaré's scientific work and to determine the assimilation of Poincaré's ideas in dynamical systems in Portugal.

- the task 4 - to study Poincaré's Conventionalism in the period between 1905 until his death in 1912 (a crucial time to understand Poincaré's mature scientific attitude, knowledge and self-perception).

In the development of this project, we count with very relevant international support (Prof. Heinzemann, Univ. of Nancy and director of the Poincaré Archives, and Prof. Shahid Rahman, Univ. Lille III).

Prof. Shahid will be visiting professor at CFCUL several times. The first coming will be next 23 to 28 October 2007 in order to give:

- 1 seminar with pos-graduated students (3 master and 2 PHD thesis) - 24.10.07, morning

- 2 lectures with Poincaré team - 24.10.07 and 26.10.07 - afternoon

- 1 lecture at Mastre in History and Philosophy of Science - 25.10.07 - 3-5pm

- 1 public conference at Institut Franco-Portugais 25.10.07, 6pm

In this context, and with the support of the Institut Franco- Portugais, we hope to be able to create a graduate training network involving both the CFCUL and the UMR 8163/Lille III that will include a future "MAITRISE CONJOINTE" (foreseen to 2009-2010).

3) ON THE CONCEPT OF CREATION

- to publish 3 books:

- "The creation of the impossible" (Catarina Pombo)

"The creation at the edges" (Golgonah Anghel)

"The reality of Fiction" (E. pellejero)

- to organize 2 workshops

- "The Idea of Creation (2007)

- "Cognition and Creation" (2008)

THIS RG WILL SUPPORT THE FOLLOWING POST-GRADUATE STUDIES

- 1 foreseen Post-doc at CFCUL: Hassan Tahiri (Univ. Lille III) - 2008

- 2 ongoing PhD thesis:

- Alexander Gerner, Philosophical Research of Attention (supervisors: Olga Pombo and Nuno Nabais).

- Maria de Paz - "Space and Time in Einstein and Poincaré" (supervision Prof. Isabel Serra) .

- 3 ongoing Master thesis :

- Ana Paula Silva, Transformations of the Concept of Abduction in Peirce. The Kepler Example, supervisor: Prof. Olga Pombo

- Celina Reduto - "The Nature of Mathematical Reasoning", supervisor: Profs. Olga Pombo and Gerhard Heinzmann.

- Claudia Martinho - "Poincaré and the Mathematics Teaching", supervision Profs. Olga Pombo and Henrique Guimarães

Funding, source, dates

ABDUCTION AND SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERY

- Proceedings of the "2006 International Meeting - Abduction and the Process of Scientific Discovery"

- 800 EUR - FLAD

- 1.000 - FCT/FACC

- 1200 - CFCUL

- "2nd International Meeting - Abduction and the Process of Scientific Discovery" (2008). For this event we expect to get the necessary funding from the following institutions:

- 2 000 EUR by FLAD (Fundação Luso-Americana para o Desenvolvimento)

- 2 000 EUR Gulbenkian

- 1 500 EUR by CFCUL

- 1 000 EUR by FACC/FCT

POINCARÉ

- 30.000 EUR FCT Project "Poincaré, Philosopher of Science" - this will be the major funding for the various activities foreseen within this project (missions, consultants, publications, etc)

- that is also the case of the Post-doc CFCUL: Hassan Tahiri (Univ. Lille III): 17.940 EUR

- We count also with the support of Institut Franco-Portugais which has been an important sponsor of some CFCUL past and impending activities. For instance, it will support the next coming and stay in Portugal of Prof. Shahid Rahman who will come before the beginning of the Poincaré's project (est. budget: 1.500 EUR)

CREATION

- publication of 3 books

- The creation of the impossible (commercial edition)

- The creation at the edges (commercial edition)

- The reality of Fiction (to be published by a mexican publisher)
- workshops
- The Idea of Creation (2007) - est. budget: 350 EUR
- Cognition and Creation (2008) - est. budget: 350 EUR

Special Requirements

Equipment, facilities, support staff and management - we count with the support of CFCUL.

Also, we intend to get extra support (mostly room availability and technical support from the FLAD (in what concerns Peirce) and from The Institut Franco- Portugais (in what concerns Poincaré).

For the publication of the foreseen volumes, we count with the collaboration and know-how of two editors: Publidisa (Spain) and Esfera do Caos (Portugal)

Objectives and Achievements

General Objectives

"Science and Art" is our Unit's newest Research Group. It has been constituted recently, in 2007, as the result of the research interests of several members and collaborators of the CFCUL who had been approaching the area (Prof. O. Pombo was the coordinator of a FCT project "Encyclopaedia and Hypertext" (1999-2002) which, among other issues, crossed the questions of science and art; Prof. V. Fabrini (University of São Paulo, Brasil), during her pos-doc at the CFCL (2006) has worked out the relation between Science and Poetics in Bachelard; Dr. Alexander Gerner has proposed a PhD project at the CFCUL on cognitive, phenomenological and artistic dimension of attention, etc, etc).

From these convergent interests and around Prof. Olga Pombo's ancient study on Leibniz philosophy of language and diagrammatic thinking, a large in scope as well as ambitious FCT project has been shaped in order to work out the relationships between "Image in Art and in Science". This project (PTDC/EAT/64201/2006) which was evaluated as excellent and received a very significant funding (see "Funding", in the "Group Description" section). It includes a wide team of national (CFCUL, Faculty of Medicine, Faculty of Arts and other institutions) and international researchers and has a huge and ambitious number of specific, well determined objectives.

With the impulse given by the above mentioned FCT project, a strong and new RG was then born. The head is the Pos-Doc Catarina Nabais who has finished her PhD in January 2007 at the University of Paris VIII (supervisor: Jacques Rancière) on "Esthétique en tant que Philosophie Naturelle" and who has focused her pos-doc research at the CFCUL on the concept of Image in Science and Art.

The RG "Science and Art" integrates also a research line on the relationship between Science and Theater. A new and innovative area of research that intends, not only to theoretically analyse the concept of representation in theater and its influence on the constitution of science, but also to disseminate Science to a wider public. The impulse was given by the recent entrance in the CFCUL of Prof. Carlos Fragateiro, who has a long research experience on Science and Theater, mainly as Director of the Teatro Trindade, of the Teatro D. Maria II and more recently, of the Teatro da Escola Politécnica of the University of Lisbon.

Future Research

Objectives

This is our newest RG. As explained before, it results of the increasing CFCUL number of researchers interested on the problem of theoretical crossings and boundaries between science and art. We'll try to establish in what way philosophy may help to think the differences between Science and Art. We'll also try to understand the complex group of questions related to the problem of Science and Art. Is Science a specific kind of thinking? In which sense does Science goes in parallel with Art? Do scientific inventions resemble the artistic ones?

The RG will work on the basis of 3 Projects:

«Image in Science and Art» (PTDC/EAT/64201/2006) - recently approved with «Excellent» by an international FCT jury. In this largely funded and ambitious project, we'll try to establish the significance of «making an Image» in both Science and Art. Is it always the same image that is functioning in science and in art? Is there a difference between scientific and artistic drawings? Do scientists think the same way as artists? Is there an internal connection between image and thought or is thought independent of images?

In the «Bachelard» Project (a pre-existing CFCUL internal Project), we'll study the thought of Bachelard either in his Philosophy of Science and in his Poetics. We'll try to understand in what way these 2 directions of Bachelard's work, although sharing the same idea of truth, do establish a quite complex relationship as they intertwine and differentiate themselves.

The 3rd project, «Science and Theatre», results from a partnership with the National Theatre D. Maria II / Escola da Politecnica Theatre of the Univ. Lisbon. The project intends to, from the Philosophy of Theatre point of view, construct an assemblage of function - concepts both to aesthetics and to science. Can we think scientific experiment as a creation in the same way as the creation process in experimental theatre? Is scientific divulgation comparable to spectacle, to a mise-en-scène? This project has also has an innovative and important aim: to disseminate Science to a wider public through theater. 2 plays are foreseen in a near future and will be worked out with the collaboration of the CFCUL team : "Feynman" - by P. Parnell and "After Darwin", by T. Wertendaker.

Besides the fulfillment of the ambitious research activities and accomplishments of the Project "Image in Science and Art", the RG as a whole aims:

- to study the concepts of Image and Creation as well as their esthetics and epistemological articulations and implications
- to make the balance of the most important classical and contemporary contributions for a theory of Image in Science and in Art
- to reconstruct the basis of an Ontology of Image that could match the problems and the challenges of contemporary Philosophy, Arts and Sciences
- to present the results of the team research in specialized journals both in Portugal and abroad and in the publication of several books
- to present a regular series of communications showing the evolution oh the work of the team at the CFCUL as well as other national and international research centres

- to publish two anthologies: one about the concept of Image and another about the concept of Creation, in order to establish an accessible corpus to other researchers
- to translate to Portuguese the most relevant works in both areas of Image
- to create a Webpage on the main themes and problems of Image in science and arts
- to give scientific support to 1 Post-doc (Catarina Pombo), to 2 PHDs (Ana Figueiredo and Cristina Branco) and 3 Master dissertations (Nuno Carvalho, Claudia Rodrigues and Ana Gaspar) which are now under way.

Funding, source, dates

- 180. 705 EUR - funding of the FCT Project "Image in Art and Science" (PTDC/EAT/64201/2006) - head: Olga Pombo. The project has begun officially on 1.05.2007 and has a 3 year scope (2007-2010)
- For the whole implementation of the above mentioned project - and in particular for the execution of the planned final exhibition - we will search support from the Medicine Museum of the Lisbon University (already a CFCUL partner in the Project), as well as the Pharmacological Industry and a private exhibition's Center (FCGulbenkian) - (2009-2010)
- For the completion of many of the objectives mentioned above, we'll also find financial support from CFCUL as well as from FCT/FACC.
- The "Image and Art and Science "project will be the major funding basis for this RG. The RG, however, also includes a research line on "Science and Theater". For that matter, we will have the support of the Escola Polytechnica Theater of the University of Lisbon and of the D. Maria II Theater (2007-2010).

Special Requirements

- Project "Image in Art and Science" (PTDC/EAT/64201/2006): the large amount of this Projects funding includes the expenses with 2 BICs (Research Grants), 1 BTI (Technical Grant) and the informatic equipment for image processing (because one of the Project's main aims is to process and organize, not only bur also from a museological perspective, the large collection of anatomical drawings from the Medicine Museum of the Lisbon University as well as the drawings from the Fine Arts School of the Lisbon University). Contacts are already being planned for the arrangements concerning the Project final exhibition facilities, but they should most probably include the collaboration of the Lisbon Science Museum and the FCGulbenkian.

- The CFCUL will continue to fully support the Bachelrad internal project, as far as either facilities and staff/management are concerned.
- Finally, the "Science and Theatre Project" will have the support of the already mentioned well known Lisbon institutions: the National Theatre D. Maria II and the Escola da Politecnica Theatre.
